

The Prospect Review* 25 (e) - August 2006

Editors' Note:

At the Prospect Fall Conference last November, four teachers spoke about "Making and Remaking Schools." In this issue of The Prospect Review we present excerpts from three of the teachers:

1. Helen Martin, from The Ark Community School, Troy, New York
2. Louisa Cruz-Acosta from the Muscota New School, New York City
3. Gillian Maimon, from the Powel School, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

Jessica Howard's remarks about The Hiland Hall School, Bennington, Vermont, will appear in a forthcoming issue of The Prospect Review. We are also looking forward to publishing articles by members of The Teachers Loft in Western Massachusetts.

Also in this issue we bring you a list (incomplete) of readings from Prospect Summer Institutes over the past 25 years.
